Happy New Year EWI!

I am excited to be starting out a new year with you all. We are developing programming for the rest of the year, and I wanted to give you a bit of information of what to expect in the coming months!

January we met at lunch at Larkspur, to get some professional development from Jill Miller – author, entrepreneur, and headmistress of The Finishing School for Modern Women! February we will be back at the Marriott for our annual B2B speed dating! Please bring any handouts/display items you would like to use to represent your company while we continue to learn about how each other's companies can be helpful to our companies. In March, we will be planning another March to Membership meeting like we held last year at Butler Community College's Redler Institute of Culinary Arts. I look forward to getting further details together for this meeting! April we will be holding our fire-sides. May, we are working on putting together a panel of women executives to hear from. June, we plan to hold our annual fundraiser. July, we will be holding our Executive Night for our scholarship winners and year recap. August, we will be putting together another professional development meeting.

We have a lot to look forward to this year! I hope to see everyone at each meeting!

"There is nothing magical about the flip of the calendar, but it represents a clean break, a new hope, & a blank canvas" – Jason Soroski.

Happy New Year!! The ASIST and EWISP scholarships are officially open! The EWISP scholarship is open specifically to high school seniors, with candidates chosen by the high school counselor(s). The ASIST scholarship is open to adult students pursuing their education. If you or your company know anyone who may be a good candidate, please direct them to our website where they will find the link to apply. Applications are due in mid-March.
